The oregon delegation to the Mideast left Cario, Egypt, for Syria today. Governor Vic Atiyey, head of the trade mission, met yesterday with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak for more than an hour.

No specific details of their discussion were released. Most of Oregon's current trade with Egypt is with agricultural products but this current trade delegation in Egypt has been promoting joint ventures between Oregon and Egyptian businessmen.

The trip to Syria involves a personal mission for Governor Atiyeh. Syria is the homeland of his family.

Newsroom Six's Mike Donahue is travelling with the Governor's party and will be sending further reports on the trip in the coming week.
